Capt. Miller went to the house of Saperintendent-Chief Folk, and related to him the circumstances above stated. Mr. Folk went to Mayor Powell's store and informed him how affairs stood. Both officials proceeded to the scene of the revolt. When they got there the doorman was the sole occupant, others having gone on post duty, as suppose 1. Before proceeding to the Station-House the Caief Greered out a detachment of the 1st District Police. who were however directed to return to their own quarters before reaching the Station-House of the Ninth Ward.

There appears to be two sides to this question: The men charged with this revolt state that they did not try to hinder Capt. Miller from performing his official duties; that he gives them tounderstand that he is on the side of the Mayor, and tells the Superintendent that he is in favor of the new law and agree with him; also, while pretending to act under the Mayor he took his returns to the Chief's office on Saturday morning and designated him by his new title. Likewise, that he gives the Mayor to understand that he is all "straight," and then informs the Chief as to the opinions and actions of the men attached to their Station. This, they allege wa the cause of disagreement between them and him The affair concerning Hauft they say, occurred in this manner: Policeman McGuire and him got into a dispute about some question they were decussing. High words ensued and a fight was the result.

These are substantially the statements of the parties interested. What the consequences will be remain-

Capt. Powers of the Fourth District Police refused to recieve the orders of the Duputy Superintendent. The latter thereupon handed a set of similar orders to Assistant Captain or "Sergeant" Wright, and ordered him to detail and command a detachment of men from the Eleventh Ward, on the occasion of the cel cbration on Tuesday next.

The Mayor and Chief of Police are both anxious to have the police out on that day, and appear to think they can manage matters harmoniously. The Mayor intends to issue his orders and thus bring out the inwho are opposed to the law and who acknowledge him as their head; while the Metropolitans will obey the orders of the Deputy Superintendent. They wi be marshaled under their respective officers as hereto fore. It is probable that this arrangement will work well; at least such is the opinion of those most likely to know.

The Tax Rolls of the several Wards are now open for review and correction at No. 32 Chambers street. All corrections must hereafter be made by the Commissioners, the Legislature having taken from the Supervisors the power heretofore possessed by that body. The new law also provides that applications fo the correction of errors in real estate must be made in writing by parties considering themselves aggrieved. Property ewners should not fail to examine the books at once, as they close on the 25th of June, and during the last few days there is generally such a rush as to make it a difficult matter to get an opportunity of examining them.

NORTH RIVER BOATS .- The steamer Columbia of the line to Hudson, being broken down, the steamer Rip Van Winkle is temporarily running in her place. The steambout Eagle, which plied last Winter between this city and Port Monmouth, N. J., after undergoing thorough repairs, is about being put on the route be tween Poughkeepsie and Albany, and will prove a great convenience to the residents along the line of the river in that section.

CORNWALL, ORANGE Co.-In noticing the establishment of a new station on the Hudson River Railroad, about three miles below Fishkill, we inadvertently stated that a ferry boat was about to ply between that point and Caldwell's, in connection with the trains; whereas, we intended to have inserted Cornwall, or rather, we should say, New Cornwall, that being the proper name we believe, instead of Caldwell's, which is situated about twelve miles below.

SUSPECTED ARRECTION OF A GIRL -Mrs. Mary Eldredge, residing at No. 359 West Twenty-sixth street, yesterday caused the arrest of one Michael Gaffney on suspicion of having on Thursday last, the 21st inst., abducted Sarah L. Eldredge, daughter of the complainant, between twelve and thirteen years old. According to the affidavit of Mrs. Eldredge, she sent her daughter on the above-named day to the pork-packing establishment of Van Brunt & Watrous in Eighteenth street, between Tenth and Eleventh avenues, with a basket on an errand, since which time she has been missing from home; that on going to the packing-house to inquire for her daughter, Gaffney handed her the packet which her daughter had taken out with her, but professed to be ignorant of her whereabouts; that she was subsequently informed by one Mary Conway that she had seen Gaffney and the girl together on one of the docks; also, that another person by the name of Murphy had seen Gaffney and the girl together at Knickerbocker Hall, corner of Eighth avenue and Twenty-third street, on Friday evening last. Gaffney was taken by Sergeant Banfield to the Jefferson Market Police Court, where he was committed by Justice Flandreau for further examination.

LOOK OUT FOR BAD MONEY .- Officer Smith on Saturday apprehended a woman named Sarah Townsend for passing a counterfeit five-dollar bank note, purporting to be an issue of the Ocean Bank of the City of New-York, on John J. Edwards of No. 68 West Broadway. Sarah, it appears, went to the store of Mr. Edwards on Sunday morning, May 17, 1857, and purchased a pair of shoes for $1 25, tendering in payment therefor the bill above mentioned. Edwards gave her $3 75 in good money. Feeling suspicious of the bank note, Mr. E. sent a servant to a neighboring store to ascertain if it was good, requesting Sarah to remain a moment, as he did not like the looks of the bill, but while his back was turned she quietly left the store, and he did not see her again until Saturday afternoon, when he had her arrested.

Isaac Solomon, of West Broadway, testified that Sarah attempted to pass the same bill upon him, and that he told her it was bad. Justice Osborn committed her to prison in default of $500 bail.

ARREST OF A BURGLAR.-Officer Butman of the Fifth-Ward Police yesterday morning arrested a young fellow named Peter Welsh on a charge of burglary, in breaking into the liquor store of Thomas McGinnis, No. 47 Thomas street, and stealing therefrom property to the value of $8 50. McGinnis locked up his at about 12 o'clock Saturday night, and retired to his room in the upper part of the house, and about 3 o'clock in the morning of yesterday he was alarmed by a neighbor, who told him that his store had been broken open. He went to the store door and found that it had been forced open from the outside. Upon examining the premises he discovered that two counterfeit bank notes which were in the money drawer had been taken, and property to the amount of $8 50 stolen. The burglars had attempted to get in at the store window by removing the iron bar, but did not

Officer Butman, at 34 o'clock in the morning, met Welsh in Duane street, between Greenwich and Washington streets, with a decanter of brandy and a bottle of other liquor, and arrested him on suspicion of being a thief. Two persons, who were in Welsh's company, ran away and escaped on the way to the Station House. The officer afterward ascertained that a bur glary had been committed in Thomas street, and subsequently McGinnis came to the Station-House and dentified the property found in Welsh's possession as his. Justice Osborn, before whom the accused was taken, held him to bail in the sum of $1,000, in default of which he was committed to prison.

CAUGHT THIS TIME. - On Saturday afternoon two well dressed young fellows squeezed their way into one of the Eighth-avenue cars, which was already overrowded, in West Broadway, with a two-fold objectto escape the fury of the wind-storm that was raging at the time and to ply their vocation-that of picking pockets. A gentleman named Mayer was selected as the victim, and in a moment he was relieved of his pecket book containing $72 in bills and other property. He discovered his loss almost immediately thereafter and gave the alarm, when the two well-dressed individuals seemed in a particular hurry to get out of the car, in which they succeeded, but suspicion resting upon them, Mr. M. hastily followed, crying out "stop thief," "pickpockets," &c. Officer Webb of the Lower Police Court chancing to be in West Brondway at the time, nearly opposite the car, and hearing the alarm, stopped as he recognized Martin O'Brien, a notorious pickpocket, jump from the platform and run. Suspecting O'Brien, the officer arrested him just as he gained the sidewalk, but the moment Mr. Webb laid hands on him he dropped the pocketbook in the gutter, calculating that in the confusion of the moment it would not be seen; but it was, however, observed by Several, and the pocketbook with its contents recovered. The accomplice, who it is supposed picked Mr. Mayer's pocket and then handed the pocketbook to O'Brien, succeeded in making his escape. Though hotly pursued he made his legs do their duty, and gaining a side street dodged into an alleyway out of sight. Officer Webb took O'Brien to the Station-House and detained him for the night. Yesterday morning the fellow was conveyed before Justice Osborn at the Tombs and committed for examination.

SUICIDE OF A YOUNG WOMAN.-Coroner Hills held an inquest yesterday at No. 144 Elm street, on the body of Margaret Berry, 28 years of age, whose death was caused by taking arsenic. It was shown that deceased was of very intemperate habits. Margaret Pool testified that on Saturday deceased sold all her clothes to get drink, and intimated that she intended to destroy herself. On Saturday evening she asked for a pen, and said that if anything happened, persons by searching her pocket would find everything explained. Deceased died this morning from the effects of taking arsenic. The following is a copy of a manuscript found in possession of deceased: session of deceased:

INDUST UPON GRELET, THE FRENCH PRISONER. Coroner Gamble held an inquest on Friday at the El-dridge street Jail, upon the body of Eugene Grelet, one of the prisoners in the French extradition case, who was found dead in his bed.

Stephen E. Gardner, Deputy-Jailor, testified that deceased was brought there in September last, on an order of arrest from the Supreme Court, in default of $500,000 bail; he was brought there at the suit of the Northern Railroad Company of France; when ad mitted he appeared to be in good health, but about three months since was sick about sixteen days from a bilious attack; from that time he continued apparently quite well, until the first of the present mouth, when he complained of pain in the head; his indisposition was such that he took to his bed, and Dr. Hilton was called and continued to act as his physician until his death; Dr. Hilton told witness that he could do the deceased no good while he remained in jail, and until his death; Dr. Hilton told witness that he could do the deceased no good while he remained in jail, and that it was necessary to insure his recovery that he be removed; witness applied to the Sheriff for the removal of deceased to some quiet place, but was informed by the Sheriff that he could not give an order for his removal without the consent of the prosecuting attor-removal without the consent of the prosecuting attorney in the case.

As the deceased was delirious part of the time, he proposed to the Sheriff that he should be sent to the Lunatic Asylum on Blackwell's Island. At the suggestion of the Sheriff, he called upon James Morrogh, the prosecuting attorney, and was teld by him that he had some time previously given the necessary papers for the removal of the deceased to a more suitable place. The room in which the deceased slept was on the third floor. Its dimensions are nine feet by thirty feet. It was occupied usually by from two to nine feet. It was occupied usually by from two to nine prisoners as a sleeping apartment. He made the ap-plication spoken of to the Sheriff on the day after Dr. Hilton spoke to him about the importance of his re-

Hilton spoke to him about the importance of his removal.

Dr. Joseph Hilton, next sworn—Testified that he was the Att-neling Physician at Eldridge street Jall; he was called to visit the deceased about the third day of the present month, and found him haboring under excessive pain in the right temple; he treated him for affection of the brain; infining the under the treatment administered the deceased became no better, he deemed it advisable to have him removed where he called the harden and proper comforts; he suggested to Mr. Gardner, the Deputy Jailor, upon the subject, and the latter showed himself willing and solicitions to do the best he could for the deceased; the deceased personally objected to being removed from the Prison until the night prefount bits death; when abscesses were found in the body of the brain, in his opinion it would take longer than three days to form; in his opinion it would take longer than three days to form; in

The Jury gave the following VERDICT.

That the said Eugene Grelet came to his death by abscess of the brain, the result of inflammation. Further, we find that deceased received every possible attention at the hands of the physician and keepers during his imprisonment. We consider the building now used as a "County Jail" entirely unsuited for that purpose, on account of the crowded state of the rooms and want of ventilation, and would call the immediate attention of the proper authorities to the subject.

THE BURDELL ESTATE.

SURROGATE'S COURT-MAY 23.-Before A. W. BRADFORD.
IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF DR. BURDELL. A motion was made this morning on behalf of Dr. Burdell's relatives to take out a commission to examine a witness in California, named Whitehead C. Hyde, upon an affidavit of Mr. Charles Edwards, which sets orth that Mr. Hyde was expected to prove that he had been for the past two years engaged to be married to Mrs. Cunningham, and that they had kept up a correspondence comformable to such a relation between them up to the 10th of December, 1856-a month and a half after the date of the alleged marriage. MR. FDWARD'S AFFIDAVIT.

City and County of New York, as "Charles Edwards being sworn, maketh oath that a very short time ago, and during the present month, this deponent accretained that one Whitehead C. Hyde is a material witness for this deponent's clients, in the matter of the application for letters of administration on the nexter of Harvey Burdell, and in opposition to the application of Emma Augusta Cunningham for such letters; that the present hitigation for such letters cannot be fairly and justify closed without the testimeny of said Hyde, through whom it is expected to prove that he and Emma Augusta Cunningham were engaged to be married, and intended to be married dering the present Spring, for more than a year previous to the death of said Burdell, and that she wrote letters to said Hyde forming part of such correspondence up to about the 20th day forming part of such correspondence up to about the 20th day forming part of such correspondence up to about the 20th day forming part of such correspondence up to about the 20th day death of said Burdeil, and that she wrote letters to said Hydei (forming part of such correspondence up to about the 20th day of December last, 1836); also, he says that this information in relation thereof comes from so respectshie a source that he fully believes in its truth; and this deponent further saith, that the said Whitehead C. Hyde is residing in the State of California, as this deponent has been informed, and believes such informa-tion, coming from the direct friends of the said Hyde. Sworn at the City of New York, the 19th of May, 1957. WM. RIPLEY, Commissioner of Deeds.

City and County of New York, st.—Emms A. Burdell, formerly Emma A. Cunningham of No. 3l Bond street, in the said city, being unly sworn, deposes and says, that she was the widow of the inte Harvey Burdell of said city, decessed; that her counsel, Gilbert Dean, has read to her a copy of the affidavit of Charjes Edwarde Esq. and a copy of the affidavit of Goorge D. Bulen, and has informed deponent that on affidavits of Goorge D. Bulen, and has informed deponent that on affidavits of which he two so read to deponent are copies, a motion is to be made to this Court on the 23d inst. for a commission to be sent to California to take the testimony of W. C. Hyde; and deponent further says, that she has fully and fairly stated to be said counted, all the fact in reference to her knowledge of, or acquaintimes with the said Hyde, and that she is advised by her said counsed, and verily befores after north statement made as sforcessed, that the testimony of said Hyde is wholly immaterial to the later over regarding in this Court.

other thine. Deponent further says, of her own knowledge, that she didnet intend to be married during the present Spring to said Hyde, and that it is not true that she and said Hyde had been correspending for more than a year previous to the death of said Burdell, and that she wrote letters to the said Hyde up to the 26th day of December last, 1866.

Deponent forther says that she has written no letter to said Hyde, of any nature or kind, show the 28th day of October last; that prior to the removal of said Hyde from the State of News York (namely, more than twenty years ago), abe had known said Hyde; that since the death of her former husband, George D. Cumingham, which occurred in Jane, 1854, and prior to October 28, 1856, deponent has written to said Hyde three or four letters—deponent believes but three—which said letters were partly on business relating to said G. D. Cunningham, deceased, and partly in reply to letters of said Hyde, but that no letter written by her at any time, on any occasion, or under any circumstances, contained any promise, agreement or understanding is reference to any marriage or contract of marriage, present or future, between herself and said Hydes; nor had any or either of said letters, or any part or parts thereof, any reference whatever to any such event.

Deponent further asy that from the omission of the names of the persons communicating the information which said, the said Budes and Budes have obtained in regard to said by the said.

Dependent further says that from the omission of the names of the persons communicating the information which said, Edwards and Bulen have obtained in regard to said Hyde, deponent believes that the only object on the part of said Bulen is to obtain delay and to vex and harrass deponent in establishing her rights as widow of said Harves Burdell, deceased. Deponent further says that all alleged facts stated in said sfifthering where substantially published in the newspapers of the city of New-York in the mouth of February last, and she refers to said publications as a part of this her stitustic, as how said publications, and as one of the papers on which to appose this motion.

LOCADA HYDE.

Sworn before me this 22d day of May, I These affidavits having been read, Messrs. Dean and Clinton opposed, and Messrs. Tilden and Edwards supported the metion in lengthy arguments, which consumed two hours. The Surrogate rendered his decision, denying the motion, upon the ground that the effidavits in support were not sufficient in law; that of Mr. Edwards being sworn to upon knowledge and information alone, which was the case with Mrs. Hyde's affidavit in opposition; while Mrs. Cunningham's positive oath that she had no correspondence with Hyde since the 28th of October, made the weight of testimony in her favor too strong to be overborne. Mrs. Cunningham-Burdell was in Court during the whole of these proceedings, wearing deep mourning. The case will doubtless go on a week from Tuesday, as heretofore announced.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TRAM—MAY 23.—Before Judge Woodbry.

THE MERCANTILE SLANDER CASE FINISHED—A VERDICT OF $4,500 FOR THE FLAINTIFF.
Richard G. Fowles ast. Heavy C. Bowen.

One of the Judges of the Superior Court sat at a Trial Term to-day, contrary to practice, in order to dispose of this case, which has excited more and more interest every day during its progress. It was all but impossible even for a Juror or reporter to make his way within hearing distance, so great was the press during Mr. O'Conor's closing argument

At the opening of the Court Mr. Evarts submitted a number of points on behalf of the defendant, in accordance wherewith he requested the Court to instruct the Jury. He claimed that the words were not actionable in themselves, but only in case special damage were proven; that no special damage had been proven in the present case, and that, therefore, only nominal damages, if any, could be given. That the words were spoken under such circumstances as to be in the not use of a privileged communication, and, therefore, not actionable without specific evidence of malice, and that no such evidence had been given. That the publicity given to the words was chargeable on the blaintiff, as they were spoken in private; and that in and that no such evidence had been given. That the publicity given to the words was chargeable on the plaintiff, as they were speken in private; and that in no respect did the circumstances of the case warrant excessive or exemplary damages.

Mr. O Conor then summed up for the plaintiff in an argument nearly three hours in length, wherein he reviewed all the testimony and urged the value of reputation, the vileness of sianler, and the responsibility which develved upon a jury to whom was confided tation, the vileness of slander, and the responsibility which develved upon a jury to whom was confided the flust of protecting in the only way known to the law a man whose good name had been maliciously damaged. Judge Woodruff then charged the jury at length. As regards the question as to whether the words spoken were in the nature of a privileged com-length. As regards the question as to whether the words spoken were in the nature of a privileged communication, he said:

If, in this case, Bowen & McNamee rave a letter of introduction or recommendation, importing that Mr. Fowles was worthy of confidence, and that letter was emilisted to the bosse of Geo. M. Wood, and that firm employed the plaintiff, then, on acceptaining that fact, it became lawful for Mr. Bowen to communicate to that firm whatever in his good faith he believed to be true, which affected the conduct or character of the printiff. Facts sufficient to constitute the relation which I have described between Mr. Bowen and the firm of George M. Wood have been given in evidence, and I therefore charge that, under the circumstances proved, the communication made by this detendant to Mr. Cole was in its nature a privileged communication. And where the appears the plaintiff has not done enough to entitle him to recover when he has proved the speaking of these words. He has not proved enough when he has shown that the words spoken are tot true, or even when their traftlis not set up or proved by the defendant. He must go further, and satisfy the jury they were spoken multiciously. Unless this is not set up or proved by the defendant. He must go further, and satisfy the jury they were spoken multiciously. Chiese this is done the defendant stands protected by a rais which is founded in the reciprocal obligations due between man and man in the effects of business as well as of domestic and commercial life.

either the interests of the speaker require that his belief should be disclosed, or in which his duty to the person spoken to indirect vequires, by reason of the interest of such person, to have the information, and he applies for it or is placed in a position to be misled by a previous recommendation, inforests of society and the requirements of business forbid that an homest-belief should be mithheld or that any obstacle should be inforenced to its frank, free and confidential expression. And this prings me to add, in conclusion, upon this aspect of the case, that it is for you to say upon the evidence whether the plaintif has satisfied you that the communication here complained of was made in bad faith, without believing at the time it was made, that it was true. And upon the whole evidence bearing upon this question of malice, if you find that there was no bad faith on the part of Mr. Bowen in saying what he did to Mr. Cole, but that he believed what he said to be true or if you find that is if just as probable (notwithstanding the evidence relied on that is it just as probable footwithstanding the evidence relied on the things that the part of Mr. Bowen speake the words apole in this, believing there to be true, as that he did not, then and in either case it is your duly to find for the defendant. In that case you will have no occasion to recall what I have further to say in relistant to the other bases of this case. The words spoken are thou to be deemed within the privilege—to be irreaded as a privileged communication—and your deliberations will be terminated to make the more question of the defendant in the constitution between the more question of the defendant in alphity you will consider the subject as if the question of privilege as a full protection to determine the mere question of the dere as a full protection to determine the mere question of the dere as a full protection to determine the mere question of the dere as a full protection to determine the mere question of the case.

spaken of him by the determine, within your province to determine. Some exceptions were taken by both counsel to per-tions of the charge.

The jury having been absent about an hour, returned with a verdict for plaintiff of $4,500—the jury on the former trial awarded $6,000. The defendant will doubtless appeal.

ALLEGED NALFRACTICK IN DENTISTRY.

Edward Corbet vs. E. A. S. Preterre.

This action was brought to recover $500 for alleged majoractice in the pulling of the plaintiff's teeth. The toeth which is known by the technical name of bicuspid, was pulled by an employee of the defendants in January last. It was alleged, on the part of the plaintiff, that in the operation his jawhene was broken, in consequence of which two of his moint feeth were loosened so much that he was forced to have them extracted afterward, and that he was confined to his bed, suffering much pain for several weeks in consequence.

The testimony in the case was illustrated by various scalls, upper and lower jawbones, sound teeth and decayed teeth, upper and lower jawbones, sound teeth and decayed teeth, suffering much pain for several weeks in consequence.

THE WORTH-STREET MURDER AND OTHER IMPORTANT SENTENCES. The Court Room was filed to excess this morning, produced, no doubt, by the amountement that the negro Dorsey, found guilty of the mutder of Am McGirr, alsa Hopkins, would receive the final sentence of the law. Court was opened would receive the final sentence or the word to his friend, counsel precisely at 10 celock.

Mr. Hall rose, and said he had sent word to his friend, counsel for the prisoner, that he would move for judgment at this time, in conformity with the verdict of the Jury. In accordance with that notice, he had, therefore, a more painful duty to discharge in moving for judgment in conformity with the verdict of the Jury. The Sheriff of the county was present to take prisoner in charge as soon as the Court had discharged its painful discharge in moving for indoment in conformity with the vordict of the Jory. The Sheriff of the county was present to take prisoner in charge as soon as the Gourt had discharged its painful duty.

The Clerk, Henry Vandervoort, esq., then requested the prisoner to stand up, and addressed him as follows:

John Dorsey, you may remember that you have heretofore pleaded not suilty to an indictment, charging you with murder. I pon that indictment you were straigned, and upon your servisioners with the property of the country, which country has found you guilty. What have you now to say why judgment of death should not be pronounced against you, according to law?

Bersay remained effect.

Mr. Husteed, councel for the prisoner, then addressed the Court briefly, as follows: The duty of determining whether cases like this shall be taken to a higher Court for review, is always one of difficulty, and in the present instance, of great delicacy and responsibility. After consulting with the prosecuting officer and streeting with its views, and after considerable of this case by any higher Court than that in which it was tried. I do so because I am satisfied the Jury who tried this case, with the Court, the District Atteney, and ourselves as counsel, were impressed with a sense of its sole ma-indeed, the we full—responsibilities which gathered round the discharge of our several action, however, the attention given it by the Bench, the Jury, and the feir manner of the prosecution, that no review of a merely technical objection ought to be made the groundwork for putting the Court to additional expense, in trying a capital case, when so much deliberate attention has already been given to it. I have come to the conclusion, Sir, that no review of a merely technical objection ought to be made the groundwork for putting the Court to additional expense, in trying a capital case, when so much deliberate attention of the death penalty to such insprisonment as the highest care that no review of a more of the Court, but leave it to perfo
